Compupack

Compupack was created in the late 1990's as the first web-trading division of Duraweld Ltd to sell their CD binders.

After some years the website was absorbed into the main Duraweld website, greatly expanded with the full range of Duraweld's stock and custom made products. Now the CD and DVD related items are moving back to www.compupack.co.uk with a number of other CD and DVD related products including pages, pockets and mailing solutions.
